

Conical Shaker Waste Paper Bin

WWW.CRASTER.COM

These beautifully hand-made bins refer to the Shaker tradition that developed from the mid-19th century in New York. The 2mm aero-ply used is incredibly versatile and durable (in fact so much so that airplanes were once made of this material). The bins are cut by hand then bent on a mold and nailed with tiny copper nails. Available in both straight (shown) and swallow tail styles.
